View From The Top

It seems like just a short while ago I was scripting the end of the ski season View. Now that it's December, I realize that was long ago. Western ski areas are open. The Rockies and the Wasatches have been hit with a serious dump that allowed limited openings for a lot of ski areas. Tahoe even got 14 inches of snow! We in Ohio are thoroughly enjoying the Indian Summer, though it's a little windy. We hope Ohio, PA, and western NY get some of the frozen precipitation in time for us to enjoy some December skiing and bring a strong ski base to our favorite areas. Save some for us El Nino'!

We all know that the ski magazines are full of tips on how to get into shape for the ski season. They fill the pages with exercise balls, balance beams, core strengthening and other tripe. The Skier's Edge makes machines that proclaim to train your body and strengthen your "ski muscles" in a manner that's "just like skiing". Now you can even wear your ski boots on the machine, if you pay more money for the "boot adapter kit". I'm a believer in the theory that nothing prepares your body for skiing like skiing does. To get stronger at skiing, you have to ski and ski frequently. However, I have come up with my own exercise routine that does prepare my body for the other rigors encountered in the sport of skiing.

To wit:

1. Tie a cinder block to each foot with old leather belts and climb down and up a flight of stairs.
2. Sit on the edge of a second story window ledge with your skis on and your poles in your lap for 30 minutes.
3. Bind your legs together at the ankles, lie flat on the floor; then, holding a banana in each hand, try to get to your feet.

In order, these exercises will simulate climbing down and up the ski lodge stairs to go to the restroom; sitting on a motionless chairlift while the lift attendants clean up the mess from a bad lift chair exit by someone who shouldn't even be riding the lift; and, trying to get back up after having fallen in deep snow, skis still on, with skinny baskets on your ski poles. Give 'em a try!

Our new merchandise sales have started off very well. We have some sample garments and some indexed catalogs that will help your order some personal club gear. Just pick out something you like from the catalog or our sample stock, try on our sample sizes, order the item, color and size you want. We'll have your items to you by the next club meeting. You can pay for them when they arrive or pay ahead. Your choice. We will have a stock of club T's, Mock T's, and turtle necks at the next meeting. If we don't have what you want then, you can order something for the next meeting. We now have neck wallets at $5.00 each and can coolers or "koosies" for $1.00 each. Of course, we have license plate frames too. All of these items have our new club logo included in the pricing. We are also taking orders for name tags. I'll be placing an order soon to be ready for the December meeting. Depending on how many I order, the price should be about $7.00. Let me know you're interested now.

Our trips are filling fast and the "early payment discount" will expire very soon. Don't get left off a trip and don't miss a chance to save a few $ on that trip.

Hope to ski with you soon! Jim

Non-Skier Options
usually available upon request.

2016 Ski Trips, Etc.

At the time the article is being written, the 2016 SCSC ski trips, we have the week trips SOLD OUT, Stowe and Banff, Holimont / Holiday Valley is picking up a lot of skiers, Snowshoe only needs a male skier and the Holiday Valley /Casino trip, skiers are starting to show interest with three options available on this trip; ski two days at Holiday Valley, ski one day at Holiday Valley then enjoy the Casino or just enjoy the Casino. Yes, we do have an option for the non-skier.

The day trips, Peek n Peak is getting closer to the second bus, if not filling it by now, Holimont needs skiers, this trip is on a Thursday, Seven Springs is half full or better and Holiday Valley, what a way to close the season can use some skiers.

So in general, the week trips are taking a waiting list, extended and weekend trips, one trip is close to being full and the other two trips are little over half way there. The day trips need skiers, one is working on getting a second bus and others need skiers. So, we are trying to make your ski planning a little easier by giving you less to think about on which trips to go on. The other members are filling up the trips, where are you, get aboard on one or more trips and enjoy the Snow. Remember, you snooze, you lose.

The 2016 ski trips, which require a bus, will have a bus pickup at Faircrest steel plant parking lot (usual spot and map is in the newsletter). On the day trips only, if we have enough interest and we usually do, we will have a second bus pick up at the Wal-Mart on South Arlington. That extra pick up made it easy for people, north of Canton.

Stark County Ski Club has the lowest priced 2016 ski trips in the area! What are you doing in 2016 ski season?

All the 2016 ski trip information appears in this newsletter and on the web page. Just do it!

The trip committee is rolling into 2017 planning stage with a few faces, alternates Zee Kovach and Geri Johnson, welcome aboard. They will be joining Scott Hunsinger, David Hershey, Gary Johnson and John Malsko for the planning of your upcoming 2017 season. I, Art Pokopac, will be your trip chair for one more year and with the trip committee, we are going to try to make 2017 season a memorable one.

The 2017 planning, we have already had a meeting and what is happening. Since, we are in the planning stage, I will try to keep it brief with more information to follow. Beaver Creek / Vail trip is set Jan 28- Feb 4, looking into to extended trip, out East trip and possibility of another out west trip plus all the other ski area favorites. We will try to fit all this into our 2017 schedule. That's about as brief as I can be for now.

Oh yeah, we might be asking for your help, stay tune for more.

See you on the slopes
Art Pokopac
